330

There can be no other 33-footer on the market today that combines all the Regatta 330's qualities of sailing performance, deck efficiency and interior design. A thoroughbred Ed Dubois designed hull topped with a twin-spreader fractional rig of controllable power, hides a remarkable interior that offers innovation, style and space.

A spacious cockpit makes handling for performance a simple matter, while the same space is ideal for a gentle family cruise, where spreading out and relaxing is the order of the day. For both occasions, ease and efficiency of handling are essential, and the 330 offers the best systems to simplify every action. All control lines come to the cockpit, for attention through rope clutch or winch. There is easy access to the sheet winches for headsail or spinnaker trimming, while the mainsheet has been kept aft where it is out of the crew's way, but ready for instant sail adjustment.
